Testing times at the Oval

9 September 2005

Prospects for the weather at the Oval through the next few days certainly look better than they did a few days ago. Met Office forecasters are predicting the next three days to be pretty good on the whole with the chance of showers especially on Saturday:

Forecast for the final test match at the Oval

Saturday	Maximum temperature of 22 °C with the risk of showers increasing through the afternoon. Some of the showers could be heavy and thundery.
Sunday	The temperature will reach a high of 21 °C with bright or sunny spells developing after a cloudy start. There is the chance of shower affecting the ground.
Monday	Dry and fine with top temperature of 22 °C.
